To whom it may concern:

It was recently my pleasure and good luck to work with Dan Parish of Millworks By Design on one of our residential projects. This 12,000 square foot house and 1,800 square foot accessory building in a traditional style have extensive wood detailing throughout.

Over the course of several months Dan and I along with the client and contractor worked through drawings and onsite to realize my design intent. Whenever I was struggling for a solution to a particular problem, Dan was ready with a suggestion, usually better and more authentic than my own. His sense of appropriateness is impressive and sudden changes by me or the client did not faze him in the least.

Never impatient or pushy for answers, Dan's sole thought was to help create a satisfying (not just satisfactory) result. He and his very skilled crew accomplished just that, enhancing the house tremendously.

After thirty years in practise, I have come to value the people who are easy to work with and highly capable. Dan and Millworks By Design exemplify those qualities. I wholeheartedly recommend them to anyone looking for a first rate experience and a first rate outcome.

Sincerely,

Greg Cahill
